

The following selections have been pulled from CBR's website. We receive so many new surveys that all of these are taken from May, 2008 alone. They are posted here to help illustrate the profound impact that images have in making abortion truly unthinkable. After reading about the impact that CBR is having in people's lives, please consider helping CBR Southwest and its www.unbornoutreach.org ministry!

It made me cry. I always knew it was wrong, but I didn't realize how the babies looked. How developed they really are when it happens.

- 18 year old woman, Grenada, MS, May 30, 2008

That is really sad I will never do that to a human being or to a baby

- 15 year old girl, Simi Valley, CA, May 30, 2008

I used to work as an RN at Warren Hern's abortion clinic in Boulder, CO. The pictures you show are all sadly true and accurate. I saw many "late" cases.

- 49 year old woman, Holdenville, OK, May 31, 2008

It reinforced my values. My son's life was taken while I was at work trying to provide for my family. I learnt after the fact and it hurts years later.

- 54 year old man, Richey, FL, May 31, 2008

I have never liked abortions anyway but I never knew how horrible it is and I believe the babies felt pain just like we would we just cant hear them...

- 16 year old girl, Philadelphia, PA, May 31, 2008

I am pregnant and people including the father want me to have one [abortion]. After watching these pictures I refuse to.

- 22 year old woman, Detroit, MI, May 29, 2008

I seen everything I never knew about abortions. Do the women get to see this while it happens? How can someone be so cruel? I never really knew what abortion was until I seen all the details from this website.

- 21 year old woman, Racine, WI May 28, 2008

I've always been against abortion. I think the work you guys do is awesome. Don't ever stop.

- 24 year old woman, New Zealand, May 29, 2008

I knew it was bad, but not that bad. I've heard they still do them at over 20 weeks in places when the baby could survive at that gestational age with modern technology.

- 32 year old woman, New Zealand, May 30, 2008

[I will] teach others to not do it because it's not right.

- 15 year old girl, Milwaukee, WI, May 28, 2008

It's made me hate it [abortion] more.

- 16 year old girl, Clifton, NJ, May 28, 2008

I go to high school, and most of my friends are pro choice (what I now call pro abortion to make them feel uncomfortable) so I wasn't sure how I felt about abortion until I saw the videos and I realized that I am totally against abortions now.

- 17 year old girl, Richmond, VA, May 28, 2008

It is one type of kill the humanity.

- 37 year old man, Ernakulam, Kerala, India, Ma 28, 2008

I was always against abortion but this site made me realize what the actual realities were. Unfortunately, they are very cruel realities.

- 17 year old girl, May 28, 2008

I never was for abortion but I have never seen what it does. I just don't understand how someone who does this to themselves can live with themselves afterward.

- 20 year old woman, Graham, TX, May 28, 2008

Graphic images show what the practice really is. Pro choice arguments are easily dismissed by reasoning through the real facts on abortion.

- 23 year old woman, Phoenix, AZ, May 27, 2008

Images like this are a good way of making the case, which is very difficult in the current climate of "progressive" opinion.

- 67 year old man, United Kingdom, May 27, 2008

If I would have been told about this website I would of never of gotten an abortion. I look at this website many times through out the months. And, I regret what I did almost a year ago...

- 30 year old woman, Tucson, AZ, May 27, 2008

It did change something but I am still for legal abortion. Though now I know how it works and how it is done and how disgusting it is but still. I support abortion.

- 16 year old boy, St. Alphonse, Quebec Canada, May 27, 2008

I never supported abortion in the first place but I cannot believe what I saw. It was way worse than I ever expected. I think everyone should have to watch this. Maybe then their opinion would change.

- 24 year old woman, Williamsburg, KY, May 27, 2008

I'm an 8th grader doing a persuasion report on abortion. I am pro- life, but watching this clip made me even more pro life. If you could please send me this clip in email, I would love to show it to my class for my presentation.

- 14 year old boy, Rancho Palos Verdes, CA, May 25, 2008

Hello my name is Anna [name changed] I was born in 1976. My mom had me. She got pregnant again but lost that child it was a miscarriage got pregnant again and had my baby brother Jimmy [named changed] who was born in 1979. Mom ended up pregnant again it was a boy she aborted the baby. I named him Caleb [name changed] because I hurt every day that my mom did this. It hurts me so much. I wonder what he would look like act like and would he be a big part of my life would we be closer than close or would we put a wedge between us. I wonder a lot about him. I asked my mom the other day do you regret aborting him she said no I do not regret it. That hurt like a knife stabbed my heart so that is why I will fight to STOP BABY KILLING forever.

- 32 year old woman, Polk County, FL, May 25, 2008

The images are dreadful but work well in serving the purpose. It has a lot of information that is helpful and thought provoking.

- 15 year old girl, Ireland, May 25, 2008

It made me feel sorry for the little baby it wasn't it's fault it was in that lady's stomach and it's just so sad.

- 21 year old woman, Houston, TX, May 24, 2008

Well I am pro life all the way but this video reminds me as a pro lifer to get out there and continue to fight against this disgusting atrocity. The babies are suffering far more than us.

- 29 year old woman, Powell, WY, May 22, 2008

I was in the dark of just how gruesome abortions could be. I am on my 3rd child and I know birth isn't all neat and tidy, but I never would've imagined an abortion to be that graphic! I really wanted to cry watching your videos. If any of the moms I know EVER think about abortion, I'll tie them to a chair and make them watch these!

- 24 year old woman, Glendale, AZ, May 22, 2008

It is more barbaric than I had thought.

- 81 year old man, Huntington Beach, CA May 22, 2008

It made me realize how serious it is.

- 16 year old girl, New Zealand, May 22, 2008

The graphic truth that you share is a God sent especially to the luke warm fence sitters that have not made up their mind yet. Thank you Thank you Thank you!!!

- 55 year old man, New Albany, OH, May 20, 2008

While I have seen images of aborted fetuses, I had never seen films of abortion procedures. It is truly horrific and devastatingly sad to see such a procedure celebrated in America as "choice". The only time abortion should be allowed (and pushed for) is if the mother's life is seriously threatened due to her pregnancy.

- 19 year old woman, Oak Park, MI May 20, 2008

I know someone who's totally had like 3 abortions in the last year and a half. I WILL show her this.

- 15 year old girl, Oceanside, CA, May 21 2008

I've always thought why did my parents ever bother of keeping me till this age when all they do is yell at me for never studying. All they care is for me to study. BUT after seeing all those lifeless fetus pictures. I cant stop crying at all. I've seen pictures on my human biology book, but never ever ever have I seen a baby that looks like it's been battered and brutally killed before it dies!! HOW IN HUMANE! IT'S OUTRAGOUS! I've always opposed of abortion, but after seeing this, it's the last straw. I AM 100% AGAINST ABORTION or the murder of a life in general. It's an outrageous and inconsiderate thought. And when I think about it, I feel very sad and sorry for the aborted children, because they never felt the love of their mothers. Which is why i am eternally thankful that I have chances to see my mom, get her hugs and kisses, her cooking everyday but most importantly her undying self sacrificing love for me. I think, that it is such a regret those babies never got a chance to feel. Thanks for truly opening my eyes. This is a great site that's going to get me an A on my assignment and help stress abortionists.

- 16 year old girl, Perth, WA, May 21, 2008

I was already very anti abortion. This just gives more ammunition to battle those who are ok with murdering the unborn children.

- 30 year old man, Forth Worth, TX, May 21, 2008

I will never have an abortion. I agree that these babies have a right to live!

- 16 year old girl, Phoenix, AZ, May 19, 2008

It has made me feel even more passionate about convincing young teen mothers not to abort their babies.

- 17 year old girl, Front Royal, VA, May 19, 2008

I never was for abortions before, but the picture of the first trimester unborn fetus really pushed me over the edge. I don't know if I'm just looking at it wrong, but I see a little tongue and ears. I'm repulsed, and I cried when I saw that picture

- 13 year old girl, Washington, May 19, 2008

WOW...My friend sent me this link and I was really stunned. I never realized what actually went on in the process. It really opened my eyes. Before viewing this, I was against abortion, but now even more. I was talking to my mom about someone in my grade who killed her baby (2 mos in pregnancy) with a drug overdose, and it is considered abortion. I feel that it is wrong!!! Just because you are a less evolved and helpless form of life, does not mean that you can be killed with no form of justice involved.

- 14 year old girl, May 19, 2008

I have always been against abortions but part of me felt like some people, like rape victims, didn't have a choice but after watching that video I think every baby should be given a chance. They are all gifts from God and if he didn't want you to have it you wouldn't besides there are thousands of women who can't have them that would like to. 3) Had you ever seen abortion images before?

- 20 year old woman, New Albany, Mississippi, May 19, 2008

It is a big problem and people need to think really hard about what they are doing before they choose to do something as harsh as this. They just want to get rid of it and not have any responsibility for their actions, which is wrong! I can see why some people may want to get one but in my eyes everyone deserves a chance to live once.

- 18 year old woman, Rochester, NY, May 20, 2008

I had used photo bucket to post some pics to stop women from having abortions on my Myspace.

- 17 year old girl, Cary, NC, May 19, 2008

Now I am against it even more than I ever was before. Those poor children who never get to experience life.

- 17 year old girl, Indiana, May 19, 2008

These images are so devastating. You must be a monster if you can go through with it after seeing this film.

- 23 year old woman, Varazdin, Croatia, May 18, 2008

It has made me even more determined to do all I can to help prevent it!!!

- 17 year old girl, England, May 18, 2008

I never agreed with abortions but this site made my decision a lot stronger and it has informed me a lot more on abortions.

- 18 year old woman, Toronto, Ontario, May 18, 2008

My experience with my own abortion has changed my view on this matter... although i have had an abortion I would advise anyone thinking about it NOT to have one. You could never imagine the pain and guilt you feel after having the procedure. It is indescribable. I came across something in this article that upset me greatly. 1% of abortions are due to incest and 6% is rape and 93% is because the child is unwanted or inconvenient. THAT IS NOT TRUE. My child was wanted. My abortion came after a LONG horrible story with my ex. Yes, I choose to abort the pregnancy however, it hurt me more than anything and my child was not unwanted. Now it is in God's care and I know He can take better care of it than I could have at the time. i wish I could take my actions back but I can not.

- 23 year old woman, Greensburg, ? , May 18, 2008

It's killing an innocent baby. It doesn't matter if you've been raped have the baby and if you can't take care of it then put it up for adoption. Killing is not the way!!!!

- 26 year old woman, Columbus, OH May 18, 2008

I have never seen anything this terrible and believe me I have seen some pretty rank things in my life and I'm only 16.. But if I were to get pregnant, ABORTION IS NOT EVEN A THOUGHT

- 16 year old girl, Ethete, WY, May 15, 2008

It showed me how truly cruel these procedures are. It was definitely eye opening.

- 16 year old girl, Concord, NC, May 15, 2008

I was already aware that abortion is an act of violence, it was just a reminder of how bad it actually is

- 16 year old girl, Yuma, AZ, May 15, 2008

I'm pregnant right now and everyone wants me to have one and I'm really distressed so I think I'm going to put it up for adoption.

- 18 year old woman, Woodbridge, VA, May 15, 2008

Yes, it has helped me to "see" that abortion is the murder of a very small baby.

29 year old woman, Colorado, May 15, 2008

I never thought about it as killing a human being. I just always thought it was eliminating the problem.

- 19 year old woman, St. Petersburg, FL, May 12, 2008

I will never have an abortion.

- 16 year old girl, New York, May 12, 2008

It has showed me how wrong that is and NOBODY should do it. If you don't want a baby don't have sex or just give the baby up for adoption.

- 16 year old girl, Loretto, TN, May 12, 2008

First time in my entire life i saw a fetus bein aborted and an actual scene of it. Errrr! i hate those people who did that! they are murderers and those who helped doin it too!those inocent children were so helpless and was deprived on their own right to live and see morning rises!I am 7 weeks pregnant too and think of abortion before (Stupidity!) but i changed my mind totally after seeing this pics and videos...I dont wanna be a murderer too! thanks abortionNo for having this kind of site...i willl share this site to those who planned to have an abortion as well.

- 21 year old woman, Asia, May 12, 2008

God convicted me as I watched the DVD movie "Amazing Grace" that I needed to stop being complacent and work to end legal abortion. Your website has given me a way to be involved. Now I do not think that my hands are tied in regard to legal abortion.

- 53 year old woman, Bloomfield, NM, May 8, 2008

I [have] always been against it and never believed in it but to see how it is done breaks my heart even more.

- 23 year old woman, Houston, TX, May 8 ,2008

It is sad why would you want to do that to a poor little kid that can grow up to be a wonderful thing...

- 17 year old woman, Vadergrift, PA, May 8, 2008

Even though I [was] already opposed it, the website showed me even more how wrong it is.

- 13 year old girl, Fairfax, VA, May 8, 2008

It has shown me many truths and facts on how dangerous and cruel an abortion can be.

- 14 year old girl, Fresno, CA, May 8, 2008

Abortion has never been anything I would ever do but seeing them pictures makes you want to stand up more than what you do to stop the murder of all the little children. Our class had to pick a report about something so i picked abortion and was looking for information on it to show how harmful it is.

- 18 year old woman, Winchester, OH, May 8, 2008

I have been made EVEN MORE aware of the horrors of abortion and also made more determined to cause awareness amongst my peers.

- 23 year old woman, New Zealand, May 9, 2008

I believe this is murder. These babies could be a huge impact on the world if only someone gave them a chance....those pictures make me sick and I hope that they make others think more.

- 17 year old girl, Berkley, MI, May 8, 2008

I was already strongly against it but it just impacts me even more.

- 13 year old girl, Parma, OH, May 7, 2008

I saw some of the pictures and I'm now totally against it, i used to support first trimester abortions, in only rape and incest cases, but not any more.

- 18 year old man, Port Washington, WI, May 7, 2008

I believe if you have the gust to do this to a child that cannot defend him or herself you are not human I believe you have to have a cold heart to do this to a baby all because you want to lay down and open you legs you knew there was a chance that if you have sex there will be or is a possibility that you will get pregnant you made that choice now you are going to have that on your shoulder until you die.

- 17 year old girl, Philadelphia, PA, May 6, 2008

I am doing abortion for my coursework at school and I have found out a lot of things about abortion. I think that it is a really horrible thing that someone can do to a poor unborn baby.

- 15 year old girl, United Kingdom, May 6, 2008

I had no idea, the children are small human beings just like you or I, and I feel abortion, especially as late 24 weeks should defiantly be abolished!!! How is this legal? I cannot understand how any woman can take 24 weeks to decide to terminate her pregnancy? I personally would never abort, I feel as though it is not my choice to make. Abortion is the main reason why society today sees women openly having sleeping around with various partners. Without any regards to what may happen. The reason for this is obvious; they think 'so what if I get pregnant I don't have to have a baby!' It has ruined society. Some women have no self respect. And men less respect for them, Because of abortion we have seen a rise in sexually transmitted diseases, divorce, people having sex as young as 13, and a breakdown in relationships. This casual approach to sex has made committing to a relationship and choosing a correct partner a thing of the past. Abolish abortion and we will be surprised at a change in the world. But the shameful reality is not everyone will be able to see this. I am in a long term relationship and do not feel my partner understands abortion, he like a lot of people see it as a way out, and a quick fix.

- 19 year old woman, United Kingdom, May 6, 2008

I am currently doing a research paper expressing my views about the immorality of abortion.. This site was very helpful.

- 16 year old girl, Trion, GA, May 5, 2008

It's a completely different thing to hear about abortions happening across the world and not see it with your own eyes, but when you're confronted with the reality of the situation, it can alter your opinion dramatically.

- 14 year old girl, Pine Falls, Manitoba, Canada, May 3, 2008

It makes the horrifying truths of abortion seem so much more apparent. The facts, and videos...just everything.

- 18 year old girl, Mexico, MO, May 2, 2008

I got pregnant at age 27 and i had a appointment to have a abortion. I saw a film on abortion but it was nothing like this one. This one is straight to the point. I was so shocked and horrified. Well i did not have the abortion thank the lord. I gave up my child for adoption. Since then we have found each other. And i am so blessed to have her back in my life.

- 52 year old woman, Houston, TX, May 2, 2008

It touched me very dear because I had an abortion done when I was 16 forced to by my parents and I know what its like but I never knew what it looked like from the outside looking in. I feel terribly for what I did, I wish I could do it over cause I would not listen to my parents.

- 17 year old girl, Berea, KY, May 1, 2008

It shown me that to kill a life is going to kill u inside I think if u dont want to keep it give 2 someone that cant have one .

- 15 year old girl, Columbus, OH, May 1, 2008

This site further justified my feelings that abortion laws must change. Abortion should be illegal. I know this because I had two abortions myself and have been living in HELL ever since. I was in denial for over 10 years and covered my pain with alcohol and antidepressants. I may never be able okay again. And for sure I will NEVER be able to bring my babies back to life. I had no right to take theirs away. There is no good reason to have an abortion not to save career, school, or relationship with family, friends, boyfriends or husbands. Women, give birth to your babies. The consequences of not going through with the pregnancy are unimaginable. I would not wish this pain on anybody. In effect killing my children was my own death. DO NOT BE MISLEAD AS I WAS.

- 31 year old, Halifax, NS, Canada, May 1, 2008
